PROJECT

Vending Machine API & Web Interface – 2023

Brief Description:

API: Developed a RESTful API for a vending machine system with user authentication and CRUD operations for products and users. Implemented user roles (seller and buyer) and secured endpoints using JWT authentication. Used Node.js and Express for the backend, with MongoDB as the database.

Web Interface: Built a user-friendly web interface using React to interact with the API. Users can register, log in, view products, deposit coins, make purchases, and reset their deposit.

Impact:

- The project provides a robust and secure vending machine system with a RESTful API, enabling seamless interaction between users and the vending machine.
- Users can easily register, manage their accounts, and make purchases with confidence in the security of their transactions.
